Mission Focus

Missionary focus of the Week

Peter & Joanna Gifford
building up local churches in
BELGIUM

An update arrived this week from Peter & Joanna, which is posted on the missions' board. They are heavily involved in children's summer camps. After wading through the difficulties that lockdowns imposed on the camps, this year they are back up and running at full steam. However, Peter has been sidelined after a knee replacement surgery led to complications that put him in the ICU for a few days, and disallowed him from taking part the way he normally does.

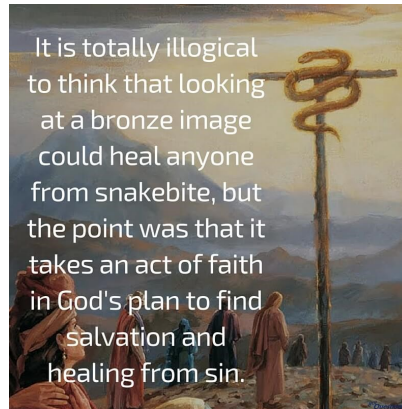

Peter's letter does an excellent job of summarizing how our teens are being adversely affected by new cultural norms. Take a few minutes to read it, and remember to pray not only for the Giffords in Belgium, but for the youth here at Elim who are experiencing the same cultural pressures.

Summer Library Challenge

It is totally illogical to think that looking at a bronze image could heal anyone from snakebite, but the point was that it takes an act of faith in God's plan to find salvation and healing from sin.
