

- Lord, we thank You that no one can harm us ... therefore may we prove zealous for what is good.
- Lord, we thank You that people will ask us of the hope we possess ... therefore may we be ready to make a defense of our faith.
- Lord, we thank You that those who make little of our Christian faith will someday be put to shame ... therefore may we have a good conscience.

"... but sanctify Christ as Lord in your hearts" (1 Pet 3:15a)

Mission Focus

Missionary focus of the Week

West Africa

Next Sunday, November 6 is International Day of Prayer for the Persecuted Church. Our persecuted brothers and sisters value our prayers more than anything. Many countries in the world are experiencing increased persecution towards Christians.

Book Review

Do Hard Things by Alex and Brett Harris

Join the teenage rebellion against low expectations. Choose to "do hard things" for God's glory! This book is written by teens for teen. It combats the idea that adolescence is a vacation from responsibility. Authors, Alex and Brett weave together biblical insights, history and modern examples to redefine the teen years as the launching pad of life and map a clear trajectory for long-term fulfillment and eternal impact. It's never too late to start!
