As Slaves of Jesus Christ may:

- We be obedient to our Master.
- We be mature in our faith as the church needs those who think deeply about the things of God.
- We live with a certainty of Christ's return, that He will come for His own and those who reject Him will be eternally condemned.
- We not deny His Lordship nor His Word.

Mission Focus for the Week

Our Persecuted Brothers and Sisters

Last week's focus on Voice of the Martyrs summarized the cries of our persecuted brothers and sisters from Pastor Richard Wurmbbrand. His book "Tortured for Christ" provides recommendations from the martyrs themselves on how those of us living in freedom can respond to their needs beyond their primary request to pray for them.

1. Lead Lives of consistent Christianity, lives of sacrifice.
2. Raise your voice by protesting publicly on behalf of those who are oppressed.
3. Pray for the persecutors, asking that they may be saved.
4. Send Bibles and other Christian literature to hostile and restricted nations.
5. Join hands with members of the underground church and provide the financial resources for them to carry on their ministry.
6. Broadcast the Gospel into restricted nations.

Elim is privileged to walk alongside Arley McBlain who is actively involved in getting the Gospel into restricted nations. We look forward to hearing more about his work in the weeks ahead.
